

THE SCRIBLERIAN

Spring 2017 Edition

The Scriblerian is a publication sponsored by the SUU Writing Center. This online journal is the result of a competition organized by Writing Center tutors for ENGL 1010 and 2010, and General Education 1000 and 2000, students.

Results of Contest

Due to changes in the Scriblerian committee, the essays from this competition were lost. Here is the list of the winners for this year. We apologize for this error. If any winners can send us a copy of their essay after seeing this, please send it to suscriblerian@gmail.com.

Argumentative- English 1010

1st Place Winner: Erica Hanserd, "The Era of the Athlete as an Activist"

2nd Place Winner: Malorie Robbins, "Greater Meaning in Work"

Honorable Mention: Mackenzie Grant, "Cultural Reflections in Disney Films"

Expressive- English 1010

1st Place Winner: Madeline Crossley, "First Wreck"

2nd Place Winner: Chelsea Quezada, "Narrative Essay, Final Draft"

Argumentative- English 2010

1st Place Winner: Anon, "Exploring How Parental Figure in the United States are the Primary Cause for the Development of Gender Roles in Children"

2nd Place Winner: Yahir Manuel Luna Leal, "The American Challenge"

Honorable Mention: Carl Anderson, "A House Too Small: The Issue of the Humanities in the Academy"

Expressive- English 2010

1st Place Winner: Kathryn Reese, "Peanut Butter and Jelly"

2nd Place Winner: Josilyn Biertrand, "Natural Disaster"

Honorable Mention: Sydnee Crowell, "I Guess It Was Nothing"

Quantitative- General Education 1000

1st Place Winner: Amelia Cicotte, "Cellular Respiration—Organisms, Environments, and Effects"